Another Robert Chaplin, was born in the west county of Somerset. He and his wife Rebecca (nee Greedy) settled as assisted immigrants in South Australia. Here is their story and the generations that followed them;

Robert Chaplin^{1,2} was born July 30, 1803 in Brompton Ralph, Somerset, England³ and died October 12, 1890 in West Mitcham, South Australia. He died aged 87 years,^{4,5} and was buried at West Mitcham Primitive Methodist Cemetery, Adelaide, South Australia.

Robert's life-time occupation seems to have been as an agricultural labourer.

He married Rebecca Greedy August 28, 1825 in St. Andrew's Church of England, Wiveliscombe, Somerset, England, Register number 268, and was witnessed by John Hill and William Milton. They were married by banns (which meant their intention to marry was made public in church on three successive Sundays, so that anyone could then raise an objection if they thought it appropriate. Marriage by license required a large payment but ensured privacy and was quicker.)

Rebecca Greedy was born and Christened on January 20, 1805 in Langford Budville, Somerset, England⁶. She died October 23, 1885 in West Mitcham, South Australia, aged 79 years.⁷ She is buried at West Mitcham Primitive Methodist Cemetery, Adelaide, South Australia. The Headstone reads: "Wife of Robert."

She was the daughter of James Greedy and Susannah Harvey.

Residences: Robert and Rebecca resided in Wiveliscombe in their early life, but with marriage in 1828 moved to Loamy, then in 1830 Woodend, in 1833 Woodhouse, 1835 Stone Wood, until settling somewhat from 1838-1847 at Burton Court, in Brompton Ralph, Somerset.

The Censuses of 1841 & 1851 register the family living in Burton Court, Brompton Ralph.

Where were Charles and James in 1851?
Did they eventually come to Australia?

Religion: While Methodist at the time of their deaths, their marriage and the baptisms of their children are listed in the Church of England, Parish Registers, at Wiveliscombe and Brompton Ralph. In South Australia the family were known members of the Primitive Methodist Church at West Mitcham.

This non-conformist church community built the famous South Australian landmark "Carclew". On 21 October 1850 Jonathan Roberts sold one acre out of section 7559, Hundred of Munno Para (GRO memorial book no. 26, page 327) and in 1855 (the year Robert and Rebecca arrived in the colony) a Primitive Methodist Chapel was erected thereon, becoming known as "Carclew". Its fourth anniversary is reported in the Register, 19 March 1859, page 2h: "The fourth anniversary of the Primitive Methodist Chapel was held on 13 March 1859... On the 14th March there was a public tea which was gratuitously provided by the ladies of the congregation following which was a public meeting in respect of the finances of the chapel... "

A further chapel was erected on the site and opened in 1870 – (Register, 21 June 1870, page 5e).

Mr Roberts was born in Cornwall at Perranarworthal, near Penryn and about three miles north of that town is the "seat" of Carclew. (See Bartholomew's Gazetteer). An Education Board report shows the school opening in 1856; the Observer of 9 August 1856, page 1d (supp.) reports on examinations while the Government Gazette of 26 April 1860 records the Gawler River School as being conducted in the Carclew Chapel. Also see Life Around the Light, page 136.

The name derives from the Old English cruceleu - cruc (or crug) - "burial ground" and cleu - "an enclosure".

Emigration: Robert and his wife Rebecca and seven of their children, emigrated on the assisted passage scheme promoted by the South Australia Company, on December 5, 1854 aboard the ship "Lady MacDonald".

19th century SA shipping records are divided into specific periods which correspond to the emigration schemes available at the time.

1. 1836 to 1840: The early years-large numbers of British emigrants respond to a widespread advertising program and apply for free passage. 11,518 labourers and their families who applied for free passage. Individuals over the age of fifteen were deemed adults and although they may have travelled with their parents, they were considered applicants in their own right and are entered into the register by name.

2. June 1841 to 1845: Government assisted emigration suspended due to lack of funds

3. 1847 to 1886: Various assisted emigration schemes offered by the government according to the labour requirements of the colony. 749 vessels which brought assisted emigrants to the Colony in the period 1836 to 1886 and for which some record of some passengers survive.

Emmigration on Utopia 1858

The Utopia is no exception to other late arrivals from England in having made a long passage, which is accounted for by adverse weather, commencing in the Irish Channel, where she beat about for 14 days without making any considerable progress. The parallel of the Cape was reached in 71 days, and from the Cape to the Leuwin a good run of 18 days was traversed but since that period easterly weather retarded her progress, and for the last 18 days of the trip she was within three days sail of her port of destination. She was seen from the beach station on Thursday at midday, but did not reach the anchorage until Friday morning, when she was boarded. Register 10/7/1858

Notes on Rebecca Chaplin

Emmigration Utopia 1858

The Utopia is no exception to other late arrivals from England in having made a long passage, which is accounted for by adverse weather, commencing in the Irish Channel, where she beat about for 14 days without making any considerable progress. The parallel of the Cape was reached in 71 days, and from the Cape to the Leuwin a good run of 18 days was traversed but since that period easterly weather retarded her progress, and for the last 18 days of the trip she was within three days sail of her port of destination. She was seen from the beach station on Thursday at midday, but did not reach the anchorage until Friday morning, when she was boarded. Register 10/7/1858

Notes on Eli Chaplin

Notes

Eli was single and 18 years of age when he married Hansani Petersen aged 17 years at the Registry Office in Adelaide.

He married a second time to Elizabeth Rebecca Read, only two years later and is recorded as a widower. Presumably Hansani died within two years. Such a young age to be married in those days and in the registry office. Perhaps they were eloping or she may have been pregnant?

At 43 years of age he married a third time to Olive May O'Leary, though he is recorded as being single and not as a widower.

This is the main correspondence file series used by the Royal Australian Air Force from 1922 to 1960 and, from 1922 to 1938, this included the area now known as Civil Aviation. The Royal Australian Air Force, created in 1921, initially used a file registration system based on the current army administration system. In 1922 they began this system which lasted (with only minor changes) until 1960.

This may or may NOT be Mamey Chaplin. If it is then he would have been in his 30's at this time.

Military Records

It is quite possible that George Maxwell Chaplin lied about his age in order to enter the military effort against Japan. His BDM record (Digger SA) is for 1922, but his military record has 1919. 1922 would mean that he was only 17 yoa, whereas 1919 makes him 19 yoa and legally enlistable.

Sections of military record to do with 3 court martials use the inverted name Maxwell George. However it is not very likely that they are separate individuals given that they were both born at Hamley Bridge and only 2 years apart. Furthermore both names have military records from the same period.
